

FIRST READING OF TARIFF BILL

Many Schedules Passed Over on Objections Raised by Senators.

CRITICISM TO COME LATER

NELSON OF MINNESOTA THINKS
WOOL DUTY TOO HIGH.

Washington, April 23.—The first reading of the tariff bill for considering committee amendments was concluded when the senate adjourned today. According to an announcement made when the reading began, every paragraph of the bill will be subject to amendment when it is taken up for final consideration next Monday. All concede, however, that substantial progress has been made. There will be no return to many of the schedules. There was comparatively little debate today, as Senator Aldrich postponed replying to many questions asked of him in order to hasten the reading. He said he would make full explanations when the amendments received final consideration. Many provisions, including the wool pulp and wool schedules, were today passed over on specific objection.

Future Criticism.

Senators McComber and Simmons suggested that the lumber schedules be passed over, and Senator Beveridge made the same request in respect to the tobacco schedules. The suggestions of various senators indicated that more than half of the rates under the wool, sugar and molasses, tobacco and agricultural and other schedules, would come in for criticism at a later date.

The schedules relating to spirits, wines and other beverages, in many of which the senate materially increased the rates proposed in the house bill, were read without provoking any objection on the part of the senators. No one asked that any of the paragraphs be passed over.

Wool Schedule Passed.

The entire wool schedule was passed over on motion of Mr. Nelson, who had previously declared his belief that the rates of duty provided in the bill were too high. Notice that the committee would bring into the senate an amendment making duties on pearls, diamonds and other precious stones specific instead of ad valorem was given by Mr. Aldrich. Replying to Mr. Bacon, Mr. Aldrich said the rates on these articles were as high as had been found practicable for the collection of any revenues.

When the schedule relating to wool pulp, print paper and books was reached, Mr. Aldrich said the committee hoped in a very few days to report an amendment for the wool pulp provision of the bill.

Effect Considered.

Messrs. Clapp, Bristow, Nelson and Piles called attention to the possible effect of the house paragraph in preventing any free importation of wool pulp from Canada, because an export duty might be imposed by a single province of the Dominion. Mr. Aldrich explained that this was one of the matters under consideration by the committee on finance. "I am not sure," he said, "that we ought not to deal in the main with Canada and hold the Dominion government responsible always for what is done in any part of the Dominion."

The reading of the Philippine sugar schedule was the signal for a vigorous criticism by Senators Clay and Bacon of the policy of admitting sugar from the Philippines free of duty. They declared that the free admission of 225,000 tons of sugar from Porto Rico and 30,000 tons from the Hawaiian Islands had not affected the price of refined sugar, and added that while granulated sugar in the United States sells for 4.96 cents per pound, it is sold for 2.79 cents a pound in London. Mr. Bacon insisted that the introduction of free Philippine sugar would, by replacing an equal amount of dutiable sugar, reduce the revenues without any benefit to the people.

Sugar Goes Over.

Mr. Lodge said the entire sugar production of the Philippines is but 160,000 tons annually, which, he declared, now goes to China. The paragraph was passed over under objection by Senators Foster and Newlands. Mr. Dooliver called attention to a provision in the bill permitting cattle, horses, sheep and other domestic animals to be brought back to the United States free of duty within six months after being driven across the boundary lines for temporary pasturage. He declared that treasury officials permit unidentified animals born in Mexico and those that have been kept there for more than a year, to be brought into this country without duty. He insisted that some official should be called to account for such conduct, and upon his motion the entire paragraph was passed over.

Clashing Interests.

Washington, April 23.—The Joplin, Mo., zinc producers and representatives of American smelters were arrayed against each other at a hearing today by Senator Smoot, to whom the zinc schedules were referred by the senate finance committee. The smelters contended that the proposition to transfer zinc ore from the free list and make it dutiable at 1 cent a pound, would result in Mexican ore being shipped to Belgium for smelting, and that the American mills would be driven out of business so far as zinc smelting was concerned.

Senator Smoot told the different interests that they would have to get together on some mutual agreement or the committee would exercise its judgment without regard to the claims of either side. The indications are that an agreement may be reached whereby the ore will be made dutiable at one-half cent a pound, and that ore containing 35 per cent or less of zinc shall be admitted free, and that some agreement will be reached concerning spelter, as a compromise one-third of a cent has been suggested.

OLD SOLDIER DEAD.

(Special Correspondence.)
Rexburg, Idaho, April 22.—Joseph W. Aule, aged 67 years, died April 20 at Salem, and was buried in the Rexburg cemetery today. The cause of death was cancer of the stomach and heart trouble. The deceased was a native of New York state. His former home was in Oswego. He served through the civil war on the union side, enlisting in the First New York light artillery under Colonel Wilson, serving in Battery F for two years, when he was promoted to second lieutenant and transferred to Battery I, serving under Sherman's command until the end of the war. Since the death of a wife and child a number of years ago, he has been unsettled, and came to this section about a year ago, working on the farm of John Heasted, who had made arrangements to have the old soldier taken to the soldiers' home in California, where it was believed his health might improve. Word was sent by Mr. Heasted to the relatives, but they were unable to do anything, so Mr. Heasted took charge of the funeral arrangements.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Thirteen names adorned the roll of honor in police court yesterday afternoon. When police court adjourned there was not a prisoner on the bench, all having been set free.

Walter Howard, a vagrant, entered a plea of guilty and was given a "floater."

Arthur Brown, an Englishman, who had objected to being questioned by Police Sergeant Beckstead, was discharged. Brown was charged with vagrancy, and after a severe lecture, in which he was advised to treat police officers in a more civil manner, he was allowed to go.

E. G. Poulas, a Greek, charged with battery on the person of S. J. Collins, entered a plea of not guilty. He was enjoying his freedom on $15 bail, which Prosecutor Rogers thought to be too small an amount and asked that it be raised to $100. Judge Bowman accordingly increased the bail to $100 and set Poulas' trial for this morning at 10 o'clock.

Oscar Whater, James Denis and Mike Hogan, all admitted they were drunk Thursday, but as it was their first appearance in police court, Judge Bowman discharged them with caution not to return again.

Alfred Howell and John G. Bargandes, charged with vagrancy, were given until this morning to leave the city. At the rate which they left the police court they had put many miles between the city and themselves before the sun had set last evening.

John Obresh, a milner from Mercur, who is serving a demerit on one year, was charged with vagrancy, notwithstanding he had $30.76 on his person at the time of his arrest, was given an opportunity to leave the city and go back to the mines. Judge Bowman asked him where he would go if turned loose. "Any place he would go," only please let me go and tell the man downstairs to let me have my money." When Desk Sergeant Spears gave up the money Obresh insisted that he had had $34.01 when arrested. But Desk Sergeant Spears had counted the amount, which was mostly in nickels and dimes, before several witnesses and John had to be content with the count.

James Mullins, charged with petit larceny, was discharged as there was no evidence to show he was guilty of the crime.

Harry Spears, who recently stole a gold watch and a typewriter, and who was tried in police court Thursday on the charge, changed his plea and told the court he was guilty. This he did on promise of the prosecution that he would be turned loose and given an opportunity to leave town. Spears said he was anxious to leave Salt Lake and made haste in getting away.
